Southern Luzon State University (SLSU; Filipino: Pamantasang Pampamahalaan ng Timog Luzon^[5]), formerly known as Southern Luzon Polytechnic College (SLPC), is the premier, state-funded higher education institution in Quezon Province in the Philippines operating by virtue of Republic Act 9395.^[6] It is composed of 11 campuses in the province of Quezon, with the main campus situated in the Municipality of Lucban.

SLSU is mandated to provide advanced education, professional, technological instruction in the fields of allied medicine, education, engineering, agriculture, fisheries, forestry, environment, arts and sciences, accountancy, cooperative, business and entrepreneurship, technology and other relevant fields of study in the Province of Quezon and in Region IV-A CALABARZON. It is also mandated to undertake research and extension services and provide progressive leadership in its areas of specialization.^[7] By virtue of Republic Act 10931 or the Universal Access to Quality Tertiary Education Act signed by President Rodrigo Duterte, SLSU will no longer be collecting tuition fees from its local, first degree undergraduate students.^[8]

History [edit]

Southern Luzon State University (SLSU) started as Lucban Municipal Junior High School by virtue of Municipal Resolution No. 5 passed in April 1964. Through the initiative of its founding president, Dr. Angelo Peña, a letter signed by 257 petitioners seeking the establishment of a Municipal Junior High School was favorably received and recommended by the Municipal Council and then Mayor Hobart Dator. The permit to operate was bestowed by Assistant Secretary of Education, Hon. Miguel Gaffud in July 1964. Since then, the Municipal Council allocated funds for its operations. Due to its expanding student population, Municipal Resolution No. 18 series of 1966 effectively expropriated about 4.9 ha of land in Barrio Kulapi - a site which the Council initially allocated for the establishment of a public market - in favor of the Municipal High School.^[9] This would then become the present site of the main campus of the university.

In May 1965, Municipal Resolution No. 86 was passed requesting the change of name to Lucban Municipal High School to accommodate students into the third and fourth year levels. The Director of Public Schools at the time approved the resolution in August 1965. On June 14, 1968, the Lucban Community College was created and was made part of Lucban Municipal Junior School as an adjunct institution for its School of Education, despite resistance from then Municipal and Provincial Councils for the school to operate as a college. The Municipal and Provincial Councils deemed it to be outside their authority to enact a law that would ensure the continued operation of the Community College.^[10]

The Lucban School for Philippine Craftsmen formally started in July 1970. By virtue of Republic Act 4345 also known as the merger law, the Lucban Municipal High School and Lucban School of Philippine Craftsmen became the Lucban National High School in July 1972 (with the continuous operation of Lucban Community College).

On August 30, 1977, President Ferdinand Marcos approved the conversion of the Lucban National High School and Lucban Community College into Lucban National College (LNC). This was in line with his administration's approach to countryside development by bringing Colleges and Universities to the provinces and rural areas. At the time, the LNC was the only government-run and funded College in the Southern Tagalog region.^[11]

In 1981, 20 Assemblymen of the Southern Tagalog Region sponsored the Parliamentary Bill No. 173 for the conversion of Lucban National College into Southern Luzon Polytechnic College (SLPC). The bill was approved in December 1981 and was signed into law known as Batas Pambansa No. 145 by President Marcos.

Since then, SLPC grew to establish seven satellite campuses located in various parts of the province of Quezon. The first satellite campus was inaugurated in Alabat in July 1991. In 1991, SLPC-Polillo was created by virtue of Board Resolution No. 19, Series of 1992. In the following year, two additional campuses were established: SLPC-Sampaloc in Brgy. Caldong, Sampaloc, Quezon (BOT Res. No. 33, series of 1993) and SLPC-Infanta. In 1996, another campus, the SLPC-Lucena Dual Training and Livelihood Center, was established under Board Resolution No. 130, series of 1996. Judge Guillermo Eleazar Polytechnic College was integrated in February 2002 under Board Resolution No. 352, series of 2002.

Judge Guillermo Eleazar Polytechnic College [edit]

Judge Guillermo Eleazar Polytechnic College was the former name of the college's satellite campus in Tagkawayan, Quezon. The satellite started as the Tagkawayan School of Fisheries under the Commission on Fisheries by virtue of Republic Act No. 4290 passed by the legislature on June 19, 1965.^[12] After 12 years, the school name was changed to Judge Guillermo Eleazar Memorial School of Fisheries by Presidential Decree No. 1273 issued by then president Ferdinand E. Marcos on December 27, 1977.^[13] Eventually, with the passage of Republic Act No. 8728, the school was converted into a state college known as Judge Guillermo Eleazar Polytechnic College.^[14] On March 17, 2007, through Republic Act No. 9395, it became part of the Southern Luzon State University.^[15]

Awards and Recognitions [edit]

SLSU is the Commission on Higher Education (CHED) Center of Development in Teacher Education^[16] and Forestry.^{[17][18]} It is also an accredited "Dark Green School", which means that SLSU's instruction, research, and extension activities are geared towards environmental awareness and protection.

In 2018, the university is assessed as a Level III State University by the CHED, a level higher than in the 2007 evaluation.^[19] Based on the CHED-Department of Budget and Management Joint Circular, a Level III SUC is "very good in undertaking the functions of a state university/college".^[20] That is, instruction, research, and extension. In 2018, the AACUP recognized SLSU as a top ranking SUC in the Philippines in terms of number of degree programs accredited.^[21]

HELD MARCH 17, 2010 AT SOUTHERN LUZON STATE UNIVERSITY LUCBAN, QUEZON

- a. The SLSU-PRAISE shall be designed to encourage creativity, innovativeness, efficiency, integrity and productivity in the public service by recognizing and rewarding officials and employees, individually or in group for their suggestions, inventions, superior accomplishments and other personal efforts which contribute to the efficiency, economy or other improvements in the operations of Southern Luzon State University or for other extra-ordinary acts or services to promote public interest.
- b. The SLSU-PRAISE shall adhere to the principle of providing incentives and awards based on performance, innovative ideas and exemplary behavior.
- c. It shall give emphasis on the timeliness of giving award or recognition during the awarding ceremonies every Charter Day. The spirit of on-the-spot grant of recognition shall be institutionalized. The system shall encourage the grant of non-monetary awards. Monetary awards shall be granted only when the suggestions, inventions, superior accomplishments and other personnel efforts result in monetary savings. The award shall not exceed 20% of the savings generated.
- d. It shall provide both monetary and non-monetary awards and incentives to recognize, acknowledge and reward productive, creative, innovative and ethical behavior of employees through formal and informal mode.
- e. The PRAISE shall be institutionalized through the creation of a PRAISE Committee in the University.
- f. The PRAISE Committee shall preferably have the following composition:
 - i. University President or the authorized representative who will act as Chairperson;
 - ii. Vice President for Administrative and Financial Affairs as Co-Chair;
 - iii. Director for Planning;
 - iv. Head of the Human Resource Management Office;
 - v. One representative from the Faculty Association; and
 - vi. One representative from the Employee Association who shall serve for a period of two (2) years.
- g. The University President or his/her authorized representative shall be responsible in overseeing the operation and the Human Resource Management Office shall serve as the Secretariat.
- h. The PRAISE Committee shall ensure that productivity, innovative ideas, suggestions and exemplary behavior can be identified, considered, managed and implemented on a continuing basis to cover faculty members and employees at all levels.
 - i. The PRAISE Committee shall establish its own internal procedures and strategies. Membership in the Committee shall be considered part of the members' regular duties and functions.

- j. The SLSU shall submit their Program on Awards and Incentives for Service Excellence (PRAISE) and its subsequent amendments to the Civil Service Commission Field Office concerned which shall likewise provide technical assistance, if deemed necessary to ensure proper implementation.
- k. Issues relative to awards and incentives shall be brought before the PRAISE Committee which shall address the same within fifteen (15) days from the date of submission.
- l. The PRAISE Committee shall be responsible for the development, administration, monitoring and evaluation of the awards and incentives system of the University. The University may, however, employ an external or independent body to assist the PRAISE Committee to judiciously and objectively implement the system of incentives and awards.
- m. The approved PRAISE shall be the basis of the grant of the Productivity Incentive Bonus (PIB) and other awards and incentives. The annual PRAISE Report shall be submitted by the University to the CSC Regional Office on or before the 30th day of January to enable the employees to qualify for nomination to the CSC sponsored national awards.

Art. 198. Objectives. The PRAISE has the following objectives.

- a. General Objective. To encourage, recognize and reward faculty members and employees, individually and in groups, for their suggestions, innovative ideas, inventions, discoveries, superior accomplishments, heroic deeds, exemplary behavior extraordinary services in the public interest and other personal efforts which contribute to the efficiency and improvement in government operations which lead to organizational productivity.
- b. Specific Objectives. The following are the specific objectives of the PRAISE:
 - i. To establish a mechanism for identifying, selecting, rewarding and providing incentives to deserving employees at the start of each year.
 - ii. To identify outstanding accomplishments, best practices of employees on a continuing basis.
 - iii. To recognize and reward accomplishments and innovations periodically or as the need arises.
